

Employment Authorization Document (EAD)

The EAD is issued to individuals in a variety of circumstances and provides general authorization to work with any U.S. employer. The authorization validity dates are indicated on the card. The EAD is usually issued in conjunction with some other visa or residence status that must be obtained first.